

Leah Brunetto

Artist & Web Designer/Developer

 leahbrunetto.com

CONTACT

- brunetto@alum.mit.edu
- 617-909-1899
- 285 Third St #439
Cambridge, MA 02142

EDUCATION

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, June 2012

Bachelor of Science in Architecture

SKILLS

Coding: Proficient in HTML, CSS, SASS | Familiarity with jQuery, PHP, Python, SVG

Design Software: Adobe Creative Suite, Sketch

CMS: Drupal, WordPress

Marketing & Workflow: Web Accessibility, Open Graph Data, SEO, Google Analytics, Google Tag Manager, Git, GitHub, Bitbucket, Trello, Invision, Slack

EXPERIENCE

Web & Interactive Developer, Museum of Science, Boston: August 2013 – present

- Design and code features using custom-built responsive Drupal themes with 2 other developers
- Web Team point person for promotion requests — in collaboration with several editors, digital marketers, and internal stakeholders
- Produce landing pages for special events, promotions, and contests — often in sync with print materials
- Engaged in evolution of website for 5 years, including responsive re-design and e-commerce integration

Freelance Web Designer/Developer, 2015 – present

Plan and implement creative technology projects for clients in the realms of arts and education

Interactive Technology Analyst, Museum of Science, Boston: June 2012 – August 2013

Designed and developed content for digital interactives such as iPad apps, exhibit kiosks, and special web projects, conducted research on interactive technologies, collaborated across departments

Assistant Curator of the Wiesner Gallery, MIT Office of the Arts: 2009 – 2012

Oversaw gallery operation, organized and promoted show openings, recruited artists

